The Customer hands a cheque to the Bank Teller.

Customer: Excuse me, I'd like to bank this cheque.

Bank Teller: Certainly.

Bank Teller looks at cheque.

Bank Teller: I'm sorry, we can't bank this. The cheque is a fake.

Customer: What! How do you know?

Bank Teller: Because CRU Bank doesn't exist, and it's come straight out of a printer.

Customer: That's terrible. The person who gave it to me runs the lunch time group at my school! I thought I could trust them. I was going to buy a pony with that money.

Bank Teller: They've given you a bad cheque and you're not getting a pony. Have a good day.
